Dear Mayor Boughton & Members of the Common Council,

Little reminder is needed at the present time of what we are faced with, relative to the price of oil and gasoline.

Over the last several weeks, I've had a few thoughts on what we might be able to do as elected folks to help/assist the people of Danbury to better get through this winter's heating season.

This would include a plan for the city to act as a "conduit" through our website, to gather oil usage from our residents and use this information as a negotiating tool to (via volume) obtain some favorable pricing from oil suppliers.

I have furnished Les Pinter with a few discussion points to help determine feasibility, "legalness" in executing such an initiative.

The second idea consists of an "OIL WATCH" program which could be incorporated into the city's website to inform residents on a daily or weekly basis, on market pricing fluctuations which could assist in our residents oil buying decisions.

This "OILWATCH" program could be expanded to include gasoline as well.

I would like this item to be included in July's agenda.

Sincerely,
