Honorable Members of the Common Council
City of Danbury, Connecticut

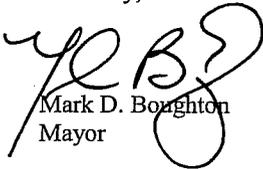

Dear Common Council Members:

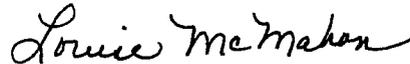

The City of Danbury has begun construction of a new parking garage on Library Place after nearly fifty years of discussion regarding the need for such a facility on the Westside of Main Street. This new garage will be a welcome addition to residents and businesses in CityCenter Danbury.

One of the key voices advocating for additional parking in CityCenter Danbury was Mr. Charles A. Bardo, the former owner of Bardo-Platt on Main Street. "Charlie" Bardo remained a successful retail entrepreneur on Main Street for two generations until his retirement in the early 1980s. Mr. Bardo went on to serve as Executive Director of the Danbury Parking Authority during the time the Patriot Garage was constructed. Charlie's leadership in several community organizations has left a tremendous positive impact on Danbury.

We are writing to suggest the new parking garage be named the "Charles A. Bardo Parking Garage" in honor of this spectacular Danburian. Thank you for your consideration of this important matter.

Sincerely,

Mark D. Boughton
Mayor
